

SUMMARY DOCUMENT REGARDING DIFFERENCES BETWEEN VERSION 1 AND VERSION 2 OF THE SPECIAL OPERATIONS BUREAU ORDER – CONDUCTED
ENERGY DEVICES
06/03/16

1. At various places throughout the documents, version 1 uses the terms “should” or “should, when feasible” and version 2 used the terms “shall” or “shall, when feasible.”

Per Department General Order 3.02, Terms and Definitions, “should” means “permissive, but recommended,” and “shall” means “mandatory.”

2. The opening paragraph in version 1 differs from the opening paragraph in version 2.

3. Section III D, Authorized Uses:

Version 1: There are two authorized uses for the CED – 1) on a person armed with a weapon other than a firearm, and 2) aggressive or violent and poses an imminent threat of injury to the safety of the public or officers.

Version 2: There is one authorized use for the CED - on a person armed with a weapon other than a firearm, who poses an imminent threat to the safety of the public or officers
