

BAYVIEW COMMUNITY UPDATE September 21, 2004

1st Annual Softball Challenge

This Saturday, September 25, a softball mini-tournament will take place at Gilman Park from 12:00 to 6:00 p.m. There will be teams present from the Hunter's Point community, Bayview Station, the Probation Department, and the Mayor's office. In addition to food and prizes, there will be clowns and face painting. The Bayview officers will apparently be playing a team of All-Stars from the community, so this should be a great game. And yes, I will be playing.

Aimco Settlement

Mayor Newsom and City Attorney Herrera held a joint press conference yesterday to announce the settlement of a lawsuit filed several years ago against a corporation which owns a great deal of property on Hunter's Point Hill. As a result of this settlement, the city will receive one million dollars, which will be used for the renovation and operating costs of the Hunter's Point Gym. The money from this settlement is but one component of what will eventually be a total renovation of the gymnasium, as well as professional programming for the neighborhood children. More information will be released on this project in the coming weeks.
