Captain Jack Hart's Message

Wed June 06, 2018

Gordon Graham, a risk management expert, author, and speaker who coined the phrase "If it's predictable, it's preventable," reminded us in a leadership seminar to always participate in the airplane safety briefing before takeoff, so as to be ready if the unthinkable happens. Seizing the opportunity on a recent flight, I heard the United flight attendant announce, "If the oxygen mask comes down from the overhead bin, put the mask on yourself first before assisting others." Both Graham's and the flight attendant's words reflect the importance of enhancing personal capacity, so that we may be able to help others. Simply put, an empty well gives no water. This month's community meeting, held at Ingleside Police Station from 7-9PM on Tuesday, June 19th, will focus on training that will enhance personal, family, neighborhood, and community capacity and readiness. This "pre-NERT" training will be co-presented with the SF Fire Department's Neighborhood Emergency Response Team instructors. If you have already been NERT certified, bring an interested neighbor or friend for a comprehensive review of preparedness principles that will inspire them to seize upon future trainings (like the full NERT course) and events (like NEN's Neighborfest/Block Party program). Come get the knowledge, skills, and ability for yourself and your family's resilience, so that you may serve and protect your neighbors, neighborhoods, and community in times of stress.

Featured Ingleside Officer of the Month Sgt. Lisa Springer

Jude, a City kid who worked really hard to save up money to buy his first car, found out on one cold Ingleside morning that he had been swindled. The car he bought suddenly--and without any fault of his own--fell apart just off of Alemany Boulevard. Officers responded to the scene, dealt with the vehicle, and worked hard to calm and reassure Jude, whose obvious sadness and frustration had boiled over.

Sgt. Lisa Springer, moved by his situation, decided to take action. She relayed Jude's situation to all of the officers at Ingleside and took up a voluntary collection. She raised $800 for his next "down payment" and additionally pitched in for car cleaning supplies in anticipation of his future car's needs. On May 14th, Jude and his family came to Ingleside Station and were both surprised and heartened by the generosity of spirit from the officers and the sense of hope restored for Jude.

Lisa is an 18-year veteran of the Department. She's an amazing leader on-duty and wonderful mother off-duty. For all of these reasons, she is our featured officer of the month.

Featured Ingleside Community Member of the Month

The Friends of Kenny Alley

This month, we are featuring, honoring, respecting, and celebrating the amazing accomplishments of the “Friends of Kenny Alley.”

Kenny Alley, a public passage and stairway that connects London Street to Mission Street between France Avenue and Italy Avenue, appeared on San Francisco maps as early as 1911. Recognizing the need to beautify and rehabilitate the space, Friends of Kenny Alley was organized in 2015. Since then, they have installed a mural, mosaics, new signage, and planter boxes (amongst other things). Members of this group also serve the Excelsior community as members of EDIA, OMMRA, EAG, Excelsior Collaborative, and others.

We are grateful for all the blood, sweat, tears, love, artistry, donations, and support that made Kenny Alley what it is today; it is a shining example of what is possible when great people with a great vision do great work.

Definition of Community Policing

Community policing, or community-oriented policing, is a strategy of policing that focuses on police building ties and working closely with members of the communities.

- Homeless Outreach and Outreach to Drug Users: Ingleside Station officers coordinate with city agencies to provide outreach and assistance to rehabilitate those who are dependent on illegal drugs and outreach to homeless individuals to connect them with resources and support.
- Foot Patrols: Ingleside Station has foot beat officers assigned to the Geneva and Cortland corridors.
- Monthly Police Community Relations Meetings: Community Meetings are held continuously. Station personnel also attend meetings with merchants groups, business groups, development authorities and others. Concerns are voiced and addressed through problem solving.
- Email Updates: Ingleside Station sends out newsletter updates to residents in the District that alerts residents of crime trends, upcoming community events, crime prevention tips, and information on how to contact officers at the District Station.

Definition of Suspicious Activity

Suspicious activity is any observed behavior that could indicate a crime-related incident has been committed, or about to be committed. Unusual items or situations: A vehicle is parked in an odd location, a package/luggage is unattended, a window/door is open that is usually closed, or other out-of-the-ordinary situations occur.

The following are some examples of Suspicious Activity that are “In progress” crimes, which demand an immediate call to 9-1-1:

- ◆ An individual peering into vehicles, to try, and locate any valuables left unattended.
- ◆ An individual trying door handles to vehicles, and/or residences to gain access to the vehicle and/ or residence.
- ◆ An individual checking front doors of residences to locate any unattended packages, or

Resisting

Witnesses called police to report three suspicious men in the backyard of a home looking into the back window of a home. The owner of the residence returned home and found a window and screen damaged. The suspects were wearing sweatshirts and had socks over their hands. Ingleside officers Johnson, Seavey, Lee, Ocreto, Prieto, and Sgt. Lau responded and found one suspect nearby matching the descriptions of the three men. The officers tried to detain the suspect but he aggressively resisted the officers before finally being placed in custody. The witness was brought to the scene and could not positively identify the suspect because his face was covered by the sweatshirt. He was cited for resisting arrest and released at the scene. An unprovoked attack from another diner sent one restaurant customer to the hospital. The victim and a friend who had joined him for lunch told Ingleside officers Camarra and Grabbe they were sitting at a booth when another customer approached, and without warning, slammed a tray of food and trash on their table. When one of the diners asked the suspect "what's wrong", the suspect angrily punched the victim in the face causing him to lose consciousness and fall down. The suspect then left the restaurant and fled south on Mission Street. Medical personnel transported the victim to San Francisco General Hospital where he was evaluated for traumatic brain injury. Fraud

An elderly woman, while on her computer checking her Facebook account, saw a pop-up ad advising her to call customer support. She told Ingleside officers Mullins and Garza she called the number believing she was calling Facebook customer support. The person answering the phone said she should buy computer identity theft security software for $412 dollars. The victim gave the agent credit card information and then saw a charge on her account for a different company. Becoming suspicious, the woman cancelled her credit card. She then received an angry call from the alleged computer company asking why she cancelled her credit card. Unhappy with the harassment, the woman called what she thought was Facebook again to complain. Instead, of helping her, the victim was told to call a different number saying her computer had been hacked over 20 times. She called the new phone number and a person at that company asked her for Apple gift cards to pay for the computer security software. The woman balked but did agree to send a check for over $3000, by FEDEX, to a South San Francisco address. She wrote the check and a FEDEX courier arrived and took the check. Later, while talking to her daughter, she realized she had been scammed. Report number: 180410010

A neighbor’s security camera footage confirmed their suspicions. He told the officers he heard his garage door opening and went downstairs and found the door indeed open. He looked at his security camera footage and saw the woman trying to open the locked doors of neighbor’s cars. The woman suspect had his garage door opener and had taken it from his parked and unlocked vehicle. San Francisco Police Make Arrest in Cold Case Homicides

On December 9, 1999 at approximately 7:00 PM, San Francisco Police responded to an incident in an apartment building on the 400 block of Bush Street. Former University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV) swimmer Kameron Sengthavy, a 25 year-old male, was found deceased from apparent stab wounds.

On June 1, 2000 at approximately 7:00 AM SFPD officers responded to a gas station at Washington and Van Ness Streets where the body of a gas station attendant, Thomas Lee, a 60 year-old San Francisco resident was found shot by an unknown assailant.

Investigators from the SFPD Homicide Detail conducted investigations of these crimes. After exhausting all leads, these investigations were assigned to the Department's Cold Case Unit.

In early 2018, investigators from the SFPD Homicide Detail's Cold Case Unit developed information that led to the identity of the suspect in these two homicides. The suspect was determined to be a Donovan Ray Lacy, a 38 year-old male.

Lacy is currently serving time in a Florida prison for several bank robberies he committed in that state. Lacy, however, had previously lived in the Bay Area and was brought back to Marin County to stand trial for several bank robberies that occurred in 2012 and 2013. In January of 2014, Lacy was convicted on the Marin County bank robbery charges and was sentenced to 105 years in prison. Following his sentencing in Marin County, Lacy was transported back to Florida. A booking photo of Lacy from Marin County Sheriff's Office accompanies this news release.

SFPD investigators gathered evidence and developed probable cause to charge Lacy with the murders of Sengthavy and Lee. An arrest warrant has been issued charging Lacy with two counts of homicide. Lacy is expected to be extradited to San Francisco to stand trial for the murders.

Upon conclusion of the San Francisco murder trials, Lacy is expected to return to Florida to finish out his nine-year sentence for bank robbery. He would then be transported back to Marin County and serve out his 105-year sentence for the 2012 and 2013 bank robbery convictions.

While an arrest has been made in these cases, they remain open investigations. Anyone with information on the murder of Kameron Sengthavy or Thomas Lee is asked to contact Inspector Dan Cunningham of the SFPD Homicide Detail at (415) 553-9515. SAN FRANCISCO POLICE DEPARTMENT

Auxiliary Law Enforcement Response Team (ALERT)

Are you someone who is interested in disaster preparedness and wants to help out your community while working hand in hand with Law Enforcement? If so, then the ALERT program is for you!

What is the ALERT Program?

The San Francisco Police Department Auxiliary Law Enforcement Response Team (ALERT) is a volunteer citizen disaster preparedness program. The ALERT program trains members of the public to assist Law Enforcement in essential tasks after a major disaster, and in other identified non-disaster activities. Such tasks may include: traffic control, foot patrols of business and residential areas, reporting criminal activity etc. Volunteers must be at least 16 years of age and must live, work, or attend school in San Francisco.

The ALERT program is modeled after, and works in partnership with, the San Francisco Fire Department Neighborhood Emergency Response Team (NERT) program.

Three Ways To Become An ALERT volunteer:

After clearing a basic background check you will be eligible to register for one of our triannual ALERT training classes as follows:

1. Complete two 8 hour classes with ALERT, or,
2. If you are already NERT Certified, complete one 8 hour class with ALERT, or,
3. If you are an SFPD Community Police Academy graduate, complete one 8 hour class with ALERT.
